SUBJECT: Criminal complaint against David RUMSEY and Rustin HOWARD

Dear Sir, or Madam,

I am a resident and citizen of France.

I am hereby reporting to you the following facts regarding the fraudulent deeds perpetrated against me by the conspiracy of Messrs. David RUMSEY ¹ and Rustin HOWARD ², both citizens and residents of the United States of America:

1. In June 2013, at a time when I was employed in the U.S. under an H-1B visa, my employer, Mr. HOWARD, arranged with his friend and close associate Mr. RUMSEY, who was unknown to me, a loan scheme in the amount of €38,750 ($50,000), at the usurious rate of 17% , which Mr. HOWARD intended to fraudulently substitute for the salaries that the company of which he was and is the Chairman of the Board ³ owed me irrefutably, according to the terms of my employment, to my activities within the company, which generated all (100 %) of the revenue thereof, to his legal obligations, and to the firm commitment he had made to the U.S. government;

² HOWARD Rustin, Chairman of the Board, DeepGulf, Inc., domiciled at 431 East Zaragoza St., Unit B, Pensacola, Florida 32502, formerly or concurrently of Tompkins County, New York

³ DeepGulf, Inc., a corporation incorporated in December 2004 around my USPTO patents and intellectual property.

2. The purported loan was never signed by hand, did not bear the compulsory manuscript legal notices, and Mr. RUMSEY never paid any amount of money either to me or to any member of my family, nor ever communicated with me at the time;
3. However, in April 2018 Mr. RUMSEY summoned me in summary proceedings before the Court of Draguignan, in France, for the repayment of the amount he claimed to have paid me in June 2013, whereas Mr. RUMSEY had never paid any amount to me or to any member of my family. I was represented by a lawyer and Mr. RUMSEY's complaint was quickly dismissed;
4. Still, in spite of the dismissal, in October 2018, Mr. RUMSEY obtained from the same court a judicial lien on my real estate, arguing mendaciously that he had paid me this amount of €38,750, although he never paid any amount to me or to any of my relatives;
6. I vigorously objected to the lien, but, not having the wherewithal to retain the compulsory counsel, my objections were returned to me unopened by the court;
5. In November 2018, Mr. RUMSEY summoned me again before the same court. Not having the resources at the time to retain a lawyer, which, according to French Civil Law is compulsory, I was still looking for a lawyer who would agree to suspend his fees when the court ruled in April 2019 in favor of Mr. RUMSEY, in my absence and without having ever informed me of the date of the hearing;
6. In June 2019, having by then received sufficient funds, I took the case to the Aix-en-Provence Court of Appeal in France after having secured the services of an attorney, also compulsory before that court;
7. In July 2019, I sent to my lawyer new evidence which unambiguously further proved the fraud committed by Mr. RUMSEY with the help of his accomplice Mr. HOWARD, who happened to still be my employer at the time;
8. In November 2022 the Court of Appeal ruled in favor of Mr. RUMSEY, ignoring the evidence that I had provided, which nevertheless revealed undeniably the fraud of which Mr. RUMSEY had been guilty with the complicity of Mr. HOWARD;

9. The new elements were not taken into account by the judges, whose ruling does not mention anywhere that Mr. HOWARD was my employer and as such undoubtedly owed me my wages⁴;
10. The Court of Appeal sentenced me to pay Mr. RUMSEY the amount of €38,250 [sic] together with accrued interest amounting to €72,231.96 and miscellaneous costs bringing the total to €116,963.71, which is equivalent to about $124,000.00;
11. I then resolved to request a review of the Court of Appeal's decision, but Mr. RUMSEY had my bank accounts seized and left only the non-seizable balance of €598.54, which is not sufficient to pay for my mere sustenance, let alone have myself represented by the compulsory attorney or even pay the filing fees for bringing civil proceedings before the State or Federal Courts of the domiciles of Mr. RUMSEY and Mr. HOWARD in the United States.

Consequently, I wish to lodge a criminal complaint against Mr. RUMSEY and Mr. HOWARD for criminal conspiracy and aggravated fraud with the aim of evading their legal obligations and appropriating my property, since Mr. RUMSEY never paid me the amount he claims from me, contrary to his mendacious statements, but attempted to distort to his benefit the payment of an amount of $50,000 which was made by my employer Mr. HOWARD⁵, with respect to the wages he owed me in accordance with Federal law and the formal commitments he had given the Federal Government.

I declare that I have undeniable proofs to support my statements, whereas Mr. RUMSEY never produced any proof whatsoever that he had paid me the amount which he claims from me, nor any other amount, nor had he ever communicated with me at the time about the establishment of the purported loan, nor about any other matter.

I attached the evidence to this letter.

Respectfully.

Marc Moszkowski

⁴ Quite plausibly, the evidence I supplied being in the English language was either misunderstood by the French judges, or mistranslated.

⁵ The judgment only refers to Mr. HOWARD as to "another associate" of Mr. RUMSEY's, whereas Mr. HOWARD was my employer, who, as such, owed me my wages without any ambiguity whatsoever.

Legal actions brought against Marc Moszkowski

- i. Marc Moszkowski has faced 8 legal actions over the past 6 years. Although he managed to repeal attacks in the frivolous lawsuits brought against him by American entities¹ in Florida Court and in United States Federal Court and Federal Court of Appeals, though he is neither a resident nor a citizen of the United States, and although he defended himself without an attorney most of the time, he lost the frivolous lawsuit brought against him by a U.S. national in the French courts, despite Marc Moszkowski being a French resident and citizen and having been represented by a French attorney. He had won this last case very easily in summary proceedings in a first court, but lost in a second, surprisingly enough, given the strength of his position.
- ii. Namely, on November 22, 2022, a French court sentenced Marc Moszkowski to pay one David Rumsey², a citizen and resident of Monroe County, New York, the amount of €38,250 plus compound interest from 2013 to 2023, at the usurious and illegal rate of interest of 11.45%, the total approaching €125,000, despite French law which strictly prohibits long-term interest rates above 3.41% (January 2023).
- iii. The court found that the amount of €38,250 ($50,000 at the time) was loaned by David Rumsey to Marc Moszkowski on June 4, 2013, according to a non-autographically signed draft contract produced by David Rumsey.
- iv. However, David Rumsey has never produced any evidence that he ever made any payment to Marc Moszkowski, since he never made said payment.
- v. Nor has David Rumsey ever produced any evidence of any direct communication with Marc Moszkowski regarding the establishment of the loan he alleges.
- vi. On the other hand, Marc Moszkowski produced irrefutable evidence that an amount of 50,000 US dollars had been paid not by Dave Rumsey, but by Rustin Howard, Chairman of the Board of DeepGulf, Inc., as an advance on the salaries legally owed to Marc Moszkowski, in order to allow him to pay his French taxes. Marc Moszkowski believes that the French judges never understood the simple English language evidence he had provided, and neither did his lawyer for that matter.

¹ In particular DeepGulf, Inc., a Florida company of which he is the main shareholder with 48% of the stock, and which sued him in 2018 for nearly $4 million

² Also a shareholder in DeepGulf, Inc.

SEE PIECES OF EVIDENCE BELOW

- vii. Rustin Howard was, and still is, the Chairman of the Board of DeepGulf, Inc., a Florida corporation of which Marc Moszkowski was an employee and the President, and Rustin Howard had a legal obligation to pay the salaries of Marc Moszkowski, which he had formally guaranteed to the U.S. Government on his personal property.
- viii. Said advance on salaries was paid off to the company over the next few months through funds paid to DeepGulf, Inc. by the French oil and gas construction company which had hired Marc Moszkowski personally as a specialist in June 2013, at the daily rate of $1,000 per day net of costs. No other salary was ever paid to Marc Moszkowski during the term of the contract, which had however brought a net income of US$95,500 to DeepGulf, Inc.
- ix. Rustin Howard maintained for several years to Marc Moszkowski that the loan scheme was just an accounting maneuver between him and his friend David Rumsey.
- x. To corroborate the above assertion, for four and a half years, David Rumsey never claimed any payment from Moszkowski, and only did so in December 2017 at the instigation of Rustin Howard when a dispute arose between the latter two.
- xi. In 2019, Marc Moszkowski discovered among the documents he had subpoenaed and the U.S. Federal Court had compelled Rustin Howard to produce, that the capital invested by David Rumsey in DeepGulf, Inc. had been reduced by an amount exactly equal to the amount of the alleged loan, while that of Marc Moszkowski's had never increased, as if the company had bought back $50,000 worth of shares from David Rumsey.
- xii. In short, Rustin Howard and David Rumsey had fraudulently conspired to disguise the legitimate salary which was owed to Marc Moszkowski as legitimate compensation for personal work which generated substantial income for the company, and to represent it as a personal loan from David Rumsey, at an exorbitant and illegal interest rate. Surprisingly enough, the French court ruled in favor of David Rumsey, despite the overwhelming evidence that David Rumsey's claim was fraudulent. Again, Marc Moszkowski believes that the French judges never really read or understood the very clear evidence he had produced in the English language, and neither did his lawyer for that matter.
- xiii. In June 2020, the U.S. Court for the Northern District of Florida confirmed that DeepGulf, Inc. owed Marc Moszkowski a very large amount (close to one million). This amount was never paid because Rustin Howard had produced in court forged documents to the effect that Moszkowski had allegedly made the absurd sacrifice of the amounts owed to him, although without any rationale or compensation of any kind. Moszkowski could not object to the forgery, since the presidential ban on entry into the U.S. consecutive to the Covid-19 pandemic barred him from appearing in U.S. Court, and Mr. Howard had dishonorably opposed a videoconference appearance.

THREE PIECES OF EVIDENCE SHOWING THAT THE LOAN SCHEME NEVER GOT BEYOND THE SCHEME STAGE AND THAT NO PAYMENT WAS EVER MADE BY MR. DAVID RUMSEY:

1. The company's funds were more than sufficient to allow the payment of Marc Moszkowski's salaries after March 2013, the date of the last salary;
2. Mr. Rustin Howard had in any case formally and officially guaranteed the payment of these salaries out of his own funds;
3. Payment of the amount of $50,000 was made by an officer of Deepgulf, Inc. Mr. Rustin Howard, not by Mr. Rumsey.
